Suspend License Of Melrose Park Tavern Gutted By Fire

Mayor Chester M. Carson of Melrose Park has suspended indefinitely the license of a tavern at 1300 N. 24th Avenue, Melrose Park, which was gutted by fire on Saturday night, February 3. An investigation into the cause of the fire, in which Margie Brown, 171 N. 25th Avenue, was severely burned, is now underway.

The cause of the fire is unknown, but the Fire Department has disclosed that it started under the rear stairwell. There were a number of patrons in the building when the fire started and only the heroic efforts of the police and fire departments prevented it from becoming a real tragedy.

According to reports, the door in the center front of the building (pictured above) is a "dummy" door and the door to the right was locked. As can be seen from the picture to the right (back of the building), the fire had shut off all escape routes to the rear.

Sgt. John Brawka used his police car as a battering ram to break down the locked door and Firemen Gerald Wrosch and Jerry Ostrom dragged Margie Brown to safety.

According to the fire report, the building is owned by Anthony Ortenzi of 1107 Lake St., but the tavern is leased by H. D. McGough of 107 Irving Avenue, Hillside.

Activities in and around the tavern have been bitterly protested by neighbors in the vicinity for several years.

According to Fire Chief Anthony Zito, his department is in the process of making a thorough inspection of all of the taverns in Melrose Park to disclose any violations that might endanger the safety of the public.

On March 30, 1965, a pretext telephone call was made to the Towne Hotel by SA PETROS A. KOTSOS. SA KOTSOS utilized the pretext of being a sales executive attempting to place individuals in hotels in the Chicago area. A white female answered and advised that the manager, name not given, was not presently at the hotel. However, she connected SA KOTSOS with another individual who advised his name was "BUCKY". BUCKY stated that the Towne Hotel is a 70 unit hotel which caters to railroad employees and the approximate prices are $4 and $8 a room. BUCKY advised that the hotel only had approximately two or three transient type rooms available inasmuch as they are under contract to furnish housing for railroaders. BUCKY stated that the Karavan Motel could possibly handle any housing problems.

It is noted that ANTHONY ORTENZI, also known as BUCKY ORTENZI, reportedly is AIUPPA's number one man in handling AIUPPA's various business accounts.

WORTMAN died August, 1969, and informants and sources indicated after WORTMAN's death that BERNE was the heir apparent to the East St. Louis organization.

Current investigation reveals that BERNE still has connections with organized crime figures in Illinois, Missouri and other sections of the country; although at the present time is unemployed and not believed to be actively engaged in any illegal activities.

Tower Ticker

by Robert Wiedrich

© A MAN OF MANY TALENTS: Call it fate. Call it Kismet. Call it what you will. But one thing remains true — Cicero crime syndicate boss Joey [The Doves] Aiuppa has the Midas touch, for even when he touches ruins they turn to greenbacks.

Take a case in point, the Towne hotel, Cicero's mob headquarters since the days of Al Capone. Three months ago, everyone thought it had been an ill wind that brushed Aiuppa's bulging brow when the joint burned to the ground one dark night, just about the time business was getting bad.

But barely had the last wisp of smoke drifted down Cermak road than Aiuppa touched the rubble with a wand fashioned of bulldozers and quick as a wink, the site was transformed into the suburb's most profitable parking lot with Aiuppa as an emerging tycoon.

In no time at all, Aiuppa's henchmen, Anthony [Bucky] Ortenzi, and Larry [Little Five] Rassano, were turning such a fast buck that attendants were illegally parking cars three abreast on the sidewalk as Aiuppa's bookmaking operations in the neighborhood reached a daily afternoon crescendo.

And then at night, when the neon lights began to twinkle and the junglelike thump of bumps and grinds bongo drums echoed from Aiuppa's strip tease joints along Cicero avenue, once again cars piled up on the sidewalk, forcing pedestrians into the street where they dodged passing Cicero police squads.

But just as Cicero's gendarmes could never find anything askew in Aiuppa's jack rolling dens thru the years, so their apparent myopia prevails today as they patrol the periphery of the gangster's parking lot.

Maybe town president John Karner should buy the boys in blue new eye glasses. They don't seem to see well thru those rose colored numbers obviously in vogue!
